Description

Interleukin 13 is a protein that in humans is encoded by the IL-13 gene. It is a kind of cytokine secreted by many cell types, but especially T helper type 2 (Th2) cells, which is an important mediator of allergic inflammation and disease. The IL-13 gene is mapped to 5q23-q31. IL-13 induces its effects through a multi-subunit receptor that includes the alpha chain of the IL-4 receptor (IL-4RA) and at least one of two known IL-13-specific binding chains. Furthermore, this gene acts more prominently as a molecular bridge linking allergic inflammatory cells to the non-immune cells in contact with them, thereby altering physiological function.

Application Notes

Optimal dilution of the IL-13 antibody should be determined by the researcher.

Immunogen

Amino acids P36-N146 from the human protein were used as the immunogen for the IL-13 antibody.

Storage

After reconstitution, the IL-13 antibody can be stored for up to one month at 4oC. For long-term, aliquot and store at -20oC. Avoid repeated freezing and thawing.
